FOREWORD

It is said that all good things must come to an end and so, the period which we were scheduled to spend in school is finished.

At a time such as this the desire to share memories is common.

We hope this book will help you live over the happy, never-to-be-forgotten days spent at Wash High, and that the re-reading will impress upon your heart, the pleasant memories of school days.

The Little Prexie Staff proudly presents, to you, the students of Wash High, the 1950 Annual. Each member of the staff has worked long hours after school to prepare this book for your enjoyment.

Last year, for the first time, the Little Prexie was judged by the National Scholastic Press Association, and given a First Class Honor rating. This year we are working toward an All-American book. Regardless of its rating, it is hoped that the pictures and stories within the green and gold cover of this 1950 book will be a constant reminder of the many happy days you spent at Wash High.

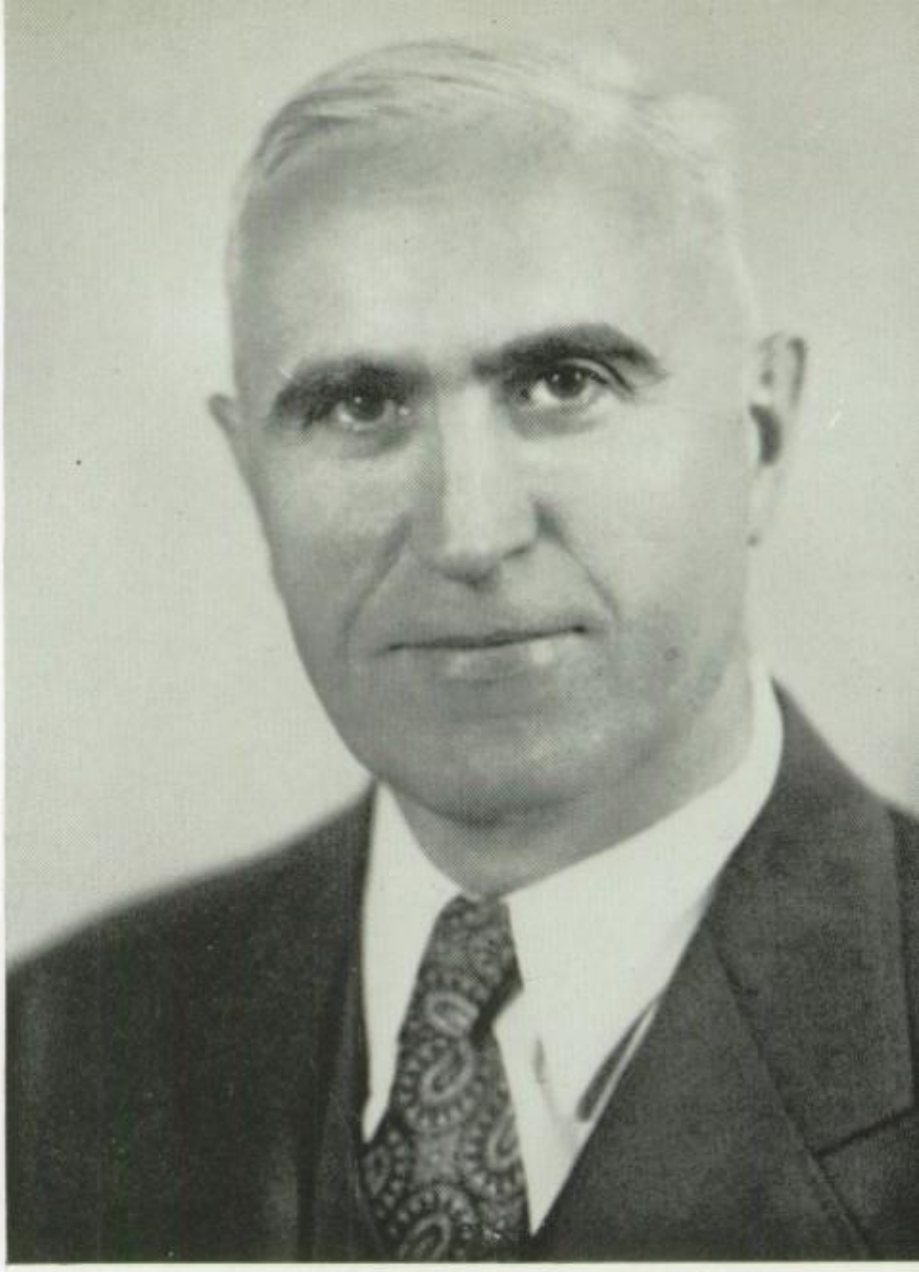
FACULTY and ADMINISTRATION

Dr. Meyers B. Horner

The year 1926 brought Dr. Meyers B. Horner to Washington as principal of the high school. Four years later, he became superintendent of the Washington schools — a position which he still holds. Educated at Juanita College and the University of Pittsburgh, he previously served as principal of the high school at Coraopolis. In the 24 years he has been associated with the Washington schools, they have grown and prospered.

During his years of service he has established himself as a leader among other school men and has figured importantly in civic affairs.



DR. MEYERS B. HORNER
Superintendent of Washington Schools

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Financing and regulating the affairs of a school system in a city as large as Washington is a complicated and difficult problem. The members of the Washington Board of Education give voluntarily of their time and services to provide Washington children with the best of educational facilities.

Problems of increased maintenance costs, appropriations, curricula, and text books are only a few items which have added greatly to their trials in this school year.

Personal supervision and constructive inspection, and more frequent meetings than in the past, bear witness to the sincere effort these men are making to keep our education at a high level.

Standing: Heston M. Hill, Dr. Meyers B. Horner, Harry W. Gray.

Homer M. Lowry

In 1932 Mr. Lowry began his association with the Washington schools as a teacher of geography and history in the high school. Previous to this, he was principal at Elizabeth, Pennsylvania.

Three years later, he was elected as principal of the Fifth Ward Grade School, which he managed efficiently until September of 1945 when he returned to Washington High as its home and school visitor. In 1946 he was selected as principal of the high school.

In the years since then, he has proved himself a sincere friend to pupils and teachers in his efforts to make our school a pleasant, well-ordered place in which to learn and teach.

Mr. Lowry is a member of the Pennsylvania State Education Association and the National Education Association, and has served on several state education committees.

HOMER M. LOWRY
Principal of Washington High School

SHELDON KELLEY
Assistant Principal, Washington High School

Sheldon Kelley

Sheldon Kelley, assistant principal, is well known by every student. It is his duty to work with the attendance staff in punishing those who are late and those who are truant. He is in charge of books and supplies, and administers the various aptitude tests.

The most important of his duties—and least appreciated—at least by the students, is that of discipline.

Before becoming assistant principal, Mr. Kelley taught science at Wash High.

OFFICE PERSONNEL

CLEA ANDREW

RELLA R. PAUL

PHYLLIS ASHBAUGH

LEAH MILLER

Work piles high in the main office—books, pamphlets, mail—all clamor for attention. Typewriters click, files slide, the Ditto turns out multiple copies, salesmen display their wares, parents wait for interviews. Oh—there's never a dull moment in the office on main floor as Mrs. Paul and Miss Andrew can testify.

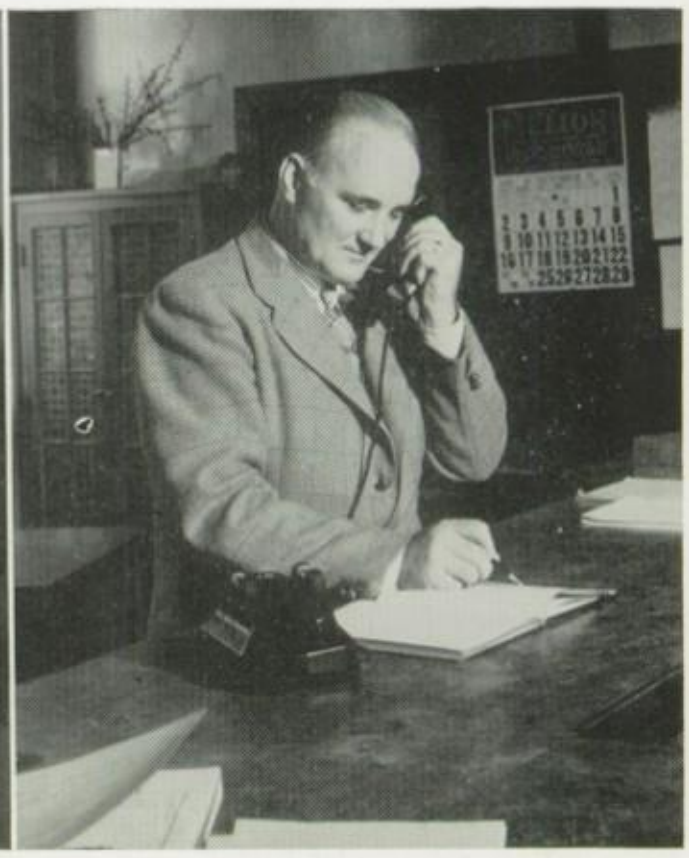
While in G18, the ground floor office—the clink of money forever sounds, as Leah Miller, the school bookkeeper, counts the income from refreshment stands, ticket sales, yearbook subscriptions, and all money concerned with the school's activities.

Phyllis Ashbaugh, a newcomer to the ranks, keeps the attendance records, types the daily bulletins of announcements and absentees, and keeps Mr. Kelley's book inventories and typing up to date.

Bill Amos, the home and school visitor, also holds court in the lower office. Here he checks on truant suspects, metes out punishment to tardy students, and issues early dismissals.

MR. LOWRY pauses for the cameraman.

A familiar pose—MR. KELLEY lost in thought!



This is MR. AMOS calling. Can you tell me why Johnny isn't in school this morning?

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT

BESSIE MARIE BRIGHTBILL
Dental Hygienist

OCIE FRYE
School Nurse

Staffed by a doctor, nurse, dentist, and dental hygienist, our medical department meets the need of every student. Physical examinations are conducted each year, giving students the opportunity to take steps necessary to keep in perfect health. Students of the 9th and 11th grades are given dental examinations by Dr. Weller and Mrs. Brightbill. Treatment by a family dentist is recommended, and many are the toothaches prevented by this yearly check-up.

Dr. Patterson is at the high school from 9 to 10 A.M. each day. Miss Frye is in the health room until noon, then she reports to the various grade schools.

As an additional preventative this year, every student was X-rayed as a precaution against tuberculosis.

Dr. Patterson checks over a student report with Miss Frye.

Wayne Henderson is given a dental examination by Dr. Weller, while Mrs. Brightbill checks his dental chart.

SERVICE PERSONNEL

JOHN CRISWELL

BERNARD DODD

WILLIAM GILSON

WILLIAM MILLER

Long hours after school books have been put away and heads are burrowed deep in pillows and away to the Land of Nod, the service personnel of Wash High sweeps and cleans, making the building a pleasant place to come back to on the morrow.

Little does the average student realize the work our janitors do. At night lights wink on and off all over the building as the force moves from room to room cleaning and putting things in order.

Bill Miller, as head custodian, migrates all over the building. He has charge of issuing supplies, and every Monday morning he can be found at the supply room door, ready to distribute paper, pencils, etc. to students from the various homerooms.

Mr. Criswell and Mr. Gilson are in evidence on the upper floors after 3:35. At times they think the yearbook staff never sleeps—particularly when they want to get into Room 201.

Barney Dodd has been titled "the janitor with the most school spirit." Coming on duty around 2 P.M., he naturally is around for all athletic contests. He is responsible for seeing that the wrestling mats are in place and that the floor is cleared of all papers for basketball games.

Mr. Boardley, as our school engineer, appears very early in the morning and spends most of his time in sub basement. He, it is, who is responsible for our warm rooms on cold winter days.

Mr. Gray, in his own slow, quiet manner, can be found daily removing writing from the walls, keeping our drinking fountains spotlessly clean, and sweeping the ground floor.

By means of a huge conveyor MR. BOARDLEY prepares to feed the furnace.

MR. GRAY gets ready for the day's routine.

BILL MILLER fills a teacher's order from the supply stack of paper.

STUDENTS AT WORK!

SENIORS

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

Little by little since 1938 the Senior Class of 1950 has been taking shape.

It was then that bashful little girls met backward little boys for the first time and suffered untold agonies at their hands. In a more serious vein, we mastered the multiplication tables, the names of continents, and the stories connected with the formation of our great world. Too, we learned to work and play together.

Progressing from the various grade schools of Washington, we entered the 8th grade at Washington High School. The building wasn't entirely new to us, for instrumental music classes had been available from the 4th grade, and Home Economics and Woodshop were required of all 7th grade students. Still, it was a "green" group that wandered around the lower corridors that September afternoon in 1945. But soon we got into such activities as football, basketball, wrestling, band, chorus, and assembly programs. In the spring of 1946, the American Legion presented the Legion medals to six members of our group: Ruth Batch, Samuel Brooks, Diane Clark, Fern Haughton, Donald Meneely, and Edson Miller. These were presented on the basis of honor, scholarship, service, leadership, and courage. We learned, too, our first step in democratic self-government by having representatives on Student Council.

The Sophomore year passed uneventfully. We were now a little wiser and a little older! We became familiar with new faces as many of our teachers returned from military service. A modern electric clock for indoor sports made its appearance in the gym, and an up-to-date Public Address system was installed.

About three months too soon, September rolled around again, and the back-to-school march was on. As "almost" upper classmen, we elected our class officers: Edson Miller, president; Carey Polan, vice president; Elizabeth Knestrick, secretary; and Mary Ann Foil, treasurer. These people were to serve as our officers through the Senior year. Corinne Nelan and Jay Luft were chosen as co-advisers to guide us past the pitfalls along the way. As Juniors we held a super Junior Prom, selecting Marlene Behner, a senior, as the May Queen. Decorations were in the hands of the class, and a colonial theme was followed in the decorations. Junior attendants in the Queen's Court were June Jordan and Marjorie Wallace. Class rings were no longer a dream, but finally a reality.

At last the big moment arrived; we were Seniors! Upon entering this, our last year at Wash High, we were determined to make this our most enjoyable one. Our first action was to order "Dinks" in our class colors of blue and gray. These were to let everyone know just who the Seniors were!

In October, Gordon French brought additional honor to the Class of '50 by winning first place in an All-County Columbus Day Essay Contest.

"The Baby Sitter" a three-act comedy by Perry Clark was our Senior class play. Humorous, depicting scenes in the life of a teen-ager, it was considered one of the best class plays produced. The main characters were: Lester Peel, Alice Spriggs, Robert Barr, Joseph Rotunda, Jessie Wood, Sara Burns, Theola Miller, Jane Dever, Carmen Maccheroli, Robert Culley, Elizabeth Knestrick, Patsy Karpa, Evan Davis, and Shirley Hartman.

Our second activity of the year was the Snowball Dance, a mid-winter formal with Brad Hunt furnishing the music. A Snow King and Queen—Lester Peel and Eileen Noble—were crowned amid sparkling snow flakes and myriad lighted Christmas trees.

On March 11, Alma Zenner was crowned Tournament Queen at the P. I. A. A. Wrestling Tournament held in our gym.

May Day activities brought us new honors as Donna May Long was crowned May Queen and Eileen Noble and Alma Zenner were the Senior attendants.

Time passed quickly, and before we knew it, Class Day, Baccalaureate, and Commencement were upon us. Commencement speakers were: Samuel Brooks, Diane Clark, Gordon French, Shirley Hartman, Edson Miller, and Matilda Palli.

This meant that our school days were at an end. Now, as members of the Class of '50, we are leaving Wash High to continue in the school of life.

First Row: Carey Polan, Edson Miller.
Second Row: Jay Luft, Corinne Nelan, Elizabeth Knestrick, Mary Ann Foil.

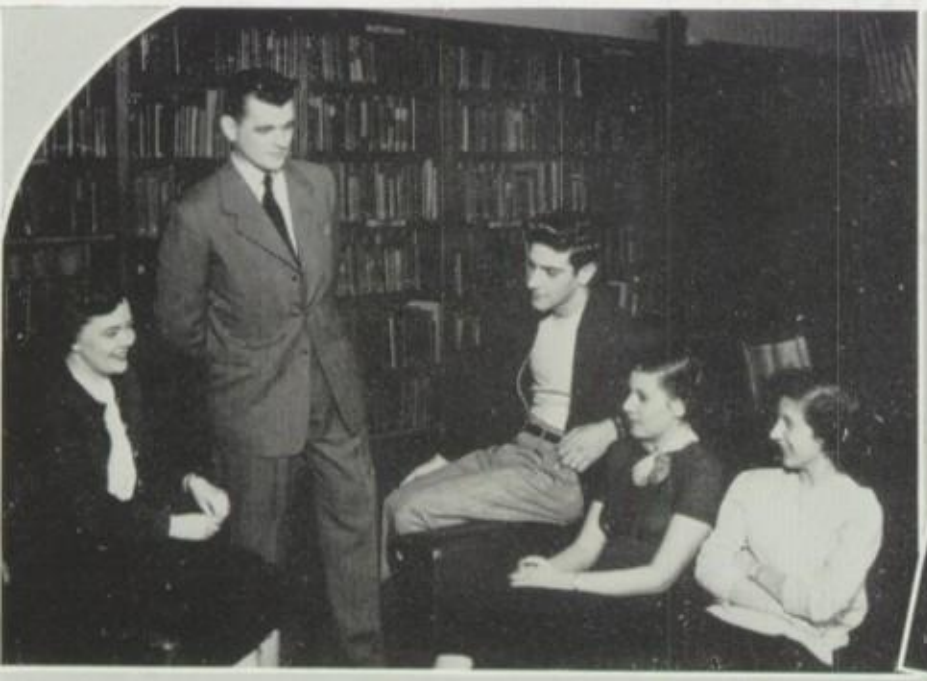
HERE 'N' THERE



First Row: Junior class officers and advisers discuss Prom plans. The library is always a busy place.

Second Row: The aquarium interests Mr. Petrone's biology students. A portion of our trophy case.

Third Row: District Band members: Balent, Dever, Miller, Faust. Won't she answer, Norm? Maybe Bob will have better luck. The boys behind the scenes of our assembly programs—Martin, Hughes, and Engle.

SPORTS CANDIDS

Row 2: Throw that ball this way! Intra-mural sports at noon. Who gets the tip-off?

Row 3: Hold that position, girls! Take your exercises for that trim figure!

SPORTS

1949 — BASEBALL — 1949

With seven lettermen back from the previous year, the baseball season of 1949 was a rather successful one, the Little Presidents winning eight out of twelve games. Two of these losses were in section play, the other two being exhibition contests with Burgettstown and Jefferson, both winners of their respective sections. The two defeats in section play were both suffered at the hands of Trinity, the eventual winner of Section III, with our Little Prexies in the runner-up spot.

Standout performances were turned in by second baseman, Don Shook, and shortstop, Don Kuzy, a keystone combination that will be difficult for Coach McGlumphy to replace. Both boys' inspirational play and timely hitting set a fine example for the younger members of the squad to follow. Other squad members who performed creditably during the 1949 season and are expected to form the nucleus of the 1950 squad include co-captain Stanley Dubelle, outfielder and catcher; co-captain Dave Moore, first baseman; Carey Polan, infielder; Dick Oberst, outfielder; Jack Burnfield, outfielder; George Dean, outfielder; Frank Maceyko, catcher; and pitchers Allan Bunner, Don Sphar, Stanley Sobella, and Merle Daugherty. Great things are expected of Daugherty, who as a freshman last year, displayed exceptional ability and promise of a possible future in baseball.

With the publication of this book, the 1950 baseball season will be history, but at the time of writing Coach McGlumphy is looking forward to it rather optimistically.

FOOTBALL 1949 SEASON

The season began one quiet August day with a group of eager boys answering Coach Hank Day's roll call. After several weeks of intensive rugged practice, the Little Prexies opened the season with the Canonsburg Gunners at the Canonsburg field. At half time the score stood 7-0 in favor of the Gunner eleven. Chances of an upset went in vain, when the Canonsburg team scored again. Washington's score came on a pass from Amos to Brown in the fourth quarter, but the score was 13-6 against the Prexies at the ending whistle.

Traveling to Brackenridge, the Wash High team next met Har-Brack High School. Here the Blue and Black met their second defeat of the season. The Prexies were unable to reach pay dirt and the game ended with the final score of 26-0 in favor of the opposing team.

The next week found the Little Prexies playing host to the Hillers from Trinity. Old time rivals, the Wash High team proved to the town and school that they could defeat Trinity. After a thrilling and scoreless half, a pass from Dave Moore to Ron Amon was completed for the score, and the extra point after touchdown by Gene Steratore, made the score 7-0 in favor of the Blue and Black. The whole team, playing as one unit, gave the fans a glimpse of the old time Wash High spirit. Bill Brown, whose second pass interception clinched the game for Wash High, was injured on this play.

With one victory under their belts, Wash High next invaded the home territory of the Monongahela Wild Cats. While Wash High outplayed Monongahela all the way, the team was able to score only once, and at the end of the game, the score was Monongahela 26, Wash High 7. The local score came on a quarterback sneak by Dave Moore.

The Blue and Black team again met defeat at the hands of the Mt. Lebanon Blue Devils. The Mt. Lebanon attack, successful at times, was held off time and again, but the Blue Devils proved to be in control and won, 28-0. The spirit and fight of the Trinity and Monongahela games was not in evidence against Mt. Lebanon.

The sixth game of the season was at Charleroi. There again the score was against the Wash High gridders—when they fell before the attack of the Cougars to the tune of 26-0.

Monessen was the next game on the schedule for the Daymen. Misfortune visited the Blue and Black team—with Billy Amos, Dutch Dubelle, and Dave Moore suffering injuries. Ronnie Amon then switched from his halfback spot to call the signals for the remainder of the game. Time ran out with the Monessen score 20, Wash High 0.

Last year's AA Champions, New Castle, were the Little Prexies' next visitors. The hard fighting Wash High team held the Scarlet Hurricane for the first half of the game, but the second half proved to be all New Castle, and the score ended with the Hurricane at 33, W. H. S. 0. This was the last home game of the Little Prexies.

More injuries took their toll of the team for the last game at Donora. They played without the services of Billy Amos and Ron Amon, and Dutch Dubelle saw limited action because of a leg injury. The Dragons were a powerhouse, and the last seconds ticked away to a 28 score for them against 0 for Wash High.

Fourteen Seniors saw action for the last time as Wash High gridders at this game.

In the Observer Washington County All-Star team, Fred Preston was placed on the first team at guard position, for the second year in succession. Dutch Dubelle, this year's captain, was listed on the second All-County team at center, and on the WPIAL second team; also he was given Honorable Mention on the All-State team. Honorable Mention was also given to several boys who will be back next year to help bring Wash High into the fore as a football threat. These include Bill Amos, a sophomore, who plays quarterback and is a very good passer and defensive man; Frank Vito, also a sophomore, who plays the fullback position; and Ronnie Amon, the spark-plug halfback of this year's team.

At the close of football season, basketball coach, Bill Laughlin, issued his annual call for basketball candidates. From this group of boys, Varsity Coach Laughlin fashioned a team which finished the season with fifteen wins and four defeats, a performance which put the Little Prexies in first place in Section IV of WPIAL and earned them the right to two play-off games at Pitt Stadium.

The season opened with an exhibition game with Connellsville on the local court. With half-time score at 32-10, the Blue and Black cagers continued to trample the Cokers, 'till the final whistle sounded with the score 58-20.

The second triumph was a victory over Donora on the Dragons' hardwood. It was a nip-and-tuck affair until Washington took the lead in the second period and never relinquished it. Final score: 58-48.

Washington visited Duquesne, December 9, but was overpowered by a strong home quintet. The pressure was applied too late and the clock registered a 59-37 victory for Duquesne.

An unbeaten Monessen team rallied to keep its record unmarred by defeating Washington 56-47 in the fourth game of the season. The score was tied six times during the contest. Dick Cain was high scorer for Washington with 13 points.

Trailing until the middle of the fourth period, Coach Laughlin's Little Prexies handed the California Community cagers their first loss of the season, 46-39. Outstanding players for Washington were Dick Cain and Chuck Thomas.

December 21 found Washington travelling to Uniontown where they won a 38-35 victory over the Uniontown cagers. Thomas' foul and Dean's field goal in the waning seconds of the last quarter spelled victory for the locals.

A strong Alumni team, coached by Clee Johnston, forced the varsity to bow to the tune of 44-41 in a close contest played during Christmas vacation.

The local quintet, in an exhibition tilt with West View, whom they again met in sectional play off, battled to a 51-44 win on the Wash High courts. Displaying excellent teamwork, and playing one of their finest games, the Wash High dribblers next over-powered Mt. Lebanon 48-26.

Going into sectional competition, Wash High defeated Canonsburg 44-34 and took first place as the only undefeated team in the section. George Dean tied for scoring honors with Gary Allhouse of Canonsburg, each having 11 points.

Burgettstown was the next victim, falling 62-29 before the Little Prexie attack. Trinity toppled, also, with Wash High outscoring the Hillers in every period to coast through to their third win without a loss.

Washington next downed Waynesburg 38-27 after a first-half scare, when the Red Raiders left the floor with an 18-12 lead. George Dean paced the locals with 13 points.

Brentwood, in two exhibition games, lost one and won one. The first game, played at Washington, was knotted a number of times in the early stages, with the Spartans winning finally 30-29 in a thriller. The second game, at Brentwood, found Washington emerging the victor 49-41, although the score was tied twelve times and the lead changed hands fifteen times.

Taking the lead early in the first period, Mt. Lebanon went on to defeat Wash High's Little Prexies 42-37, in the sixteenth game of the season.

Wash High moved a step closer to the Section IV title by trimming the Gunners on the Canonsburg floor. Close guarding and good defensive ball brought home the victory of 64-43.

Meeting these teams for the second time, the Laughlin-men defeated Burgettstown, 58-33; Trinity, 61-38; and Waynesburg, 68-45.

Six of the varsity will be lost by graduation. These include: Cain, Dean, Demas, Knestrick, Thomas, and Trapuzzano.

Winning the Section IV title meant a trip to Pitt Stadium for sectional play-off. The game with West View was fast and thrilling, but Wash High proved its superiority and came through with a close 49-46 victory.

Next the Blue and Black met Homestead for the second play-off game. Though fighting hard all the way, the Little Prexies were defeated by a score of 48-41.

WRESTLING REVIEW

The 1950 edition of the W. H. S. wrestling squad made its debut on January 3 when they traveled to Jefferson to extend their winning streak to 29 consecutive dual victories. Points were recorded on four pins by Don Young, Stan Dubelle, John McCullough, and Albert Ianni; four decisions and one forfeit, making the final score 39-9.

January 6 found the Wash High matmen chalking up another victory, but not before the Chartiers Buccaneers had given Wash High supporters quite a scare. Coming from behind after a 13-7 advantage by Chartiers—with five matches completed—the local team won, 25-21. Don Young again added six points to the Wash High score by pinning Whitfield in the first period. Petronka was responsible for the other fall of the match.

The grapplers met Trinity on the Hiller mats for their third win of the season. Albert Ianni got his pin—the only one of the match—early in the first period. Other points scored were on referee's decisions.

The Red Raiders of Waynesburg were next on the schedule. Here, two powerful teams battled to a stalemate with the final score not determined until Warren of Waynesburg scored a decision in the 185 lb. class to tie the score at 23-all.

The sixth match of the 1950 season saw Carnegie bowing to the Wash High matmen to a score of 42-11. Wilson, Radocha, Petronka, and Joe Nicolella got first-period pins, while Young and Fetherlin scored falls in the 2nd and 3rd periods.

Before an overflow crowd in the local gym, the Canonsburg Gunners took a 26-14 decision over the Harrismen. The undefeated Gunners scored on one pin and six decisions to shatter the win streak of the Blue and Black.

On February 7, Wash High was host to the Dormont High School grapplers. Scoring five falls and three decisions, Wash High appeared in the win column once more, and when the final whistle sounded, the score stood 35-18 in favor of the Little Prexies.

For the second time this season, the Wash High matmen subdued the Trinity Hillers—this time at the Wash High Gym. The Blue and Black scored on decisions by Interval, Wilson, Radocha, Petronka, Gray, Dubelle, and Mahramas, and falls by Young and Ianni to make the final reading 32-9.

St. Valentine's Day found the local grapplers enroute to Canonsburg to meet the undefeated Gunners in the second match of the season. This time the victory for the Gunners was even more decisive—with a score of 30 to 9 over the Little Prexies. Washington's points were scored in three decisions by Angelillo, Young, and Ianni.

Jefferson became the next victim of the local matmen, 47-5, when they met on the Wash High mats on February 20. This proved to be almost a whitewash—with many of the Wash High scores registered by falls. Interval, Wilson, Petronka, Young, and Ianni scored first-period pins, and Radocha, Thompson, Gray, Dubelle, and Mahramas were given decisions.

The last match of the season found Waynesburg visiting the local team, and carrying home a victory. The scoring swayed back and forth in the early matches, until after the 138-lb. match, when Washington held the edge. Then the 154- and 165-lb. bouts gave Waynesburg the lead, which they retained to the end. The final score was 25-19.

March 2-4 was the WPIAL Tournament in Waynesburg. Here, Wash High entered a team of 12 men. In the finals, Wash High emerged with one contestant—Don Young—to represent them in the state meet.

The highlight of the wrestling season came on March 10 and 11, when the PIAA Wrestling Tournament was held in the Wash High gym. Grapplers from all over the state—winners in each respective district—met to decide the state champion in each weight class. Our only representative—Don Young—came through the preliminary contests only to meet defeat at the hands of Jerry Maurey of Clearfield in the Saturday night finals.

A "before contest' 'event was the crowning of the Tournament Queen by Edson Miller, president of the senior class. The Queen, Alma Zenner, and her attendants—Nanciann Bauman, Carrie Schipps, Joan Roupe, and Harriet Super—were chosen by the wrestling team.

STUDENT COUNCIL

With service to student and to school as the main interest, the governing body of Washington High School — the Student Council — organized in 1943, rendered improvements in the forms of material and personal service. This student group is perhaps the most important organization of Washington High School. As it is the ruling force over extra-curricular activities, it affects every person in school.

At the close of the 1949 school year, the student body, at a convention, nominated candidates for the various offices; delegates were appointed from each of the 39 home rooms to vote for the candidate their group had selected, and there followed an election similar to that of our national government. From this meeting, officers to serve throughout the school year 1949-1950 were elected. We chose Gordon French, senior, to direct our activities with David Polan, senior, assisting him as vice president. Virginia Eakin and Joan Ross, also seniors, filled the posts of secretary and treasurer, respectively.

Each year the home rooms elect students to represent them on the Council. All matters brought to the student body are discussed with the members and the faculty adviser, and then voted upon. The representatives from the home rooms participate in the discussions and the voting. They also serve on at least one of the six standing committees. These committees and their chairmen are: Assembly, Donald Peters; Publicity, Jack Funk; Financial, Donald Meneely; Organization, Alan Bunner; School Spirit, Marjorie Jones; Social, Martha Tracanna.

These committee chairmen serve as an advisory staff to the four Student Council officers, and together they form the Executive Board. Mr. Paul Kratt, the faculty adviser, also participates in these meetings.

During the year, the Student Council has sponsored various activities. Before the Trinity football game, they held a pep parade which started at the high school, marched through the business section, and then continued to the football field, where a big pep rally and bonfire was held.

At the end of the football season, the Council held the "Pigskin Hop" in honor of the football players. Carol Wilson, the queen elected by the football team, was crowned at this dance.

The Council had charge of decorating the halls for Christmas. Two trees were decorated—one placed on the outside of the building on Jefferson Avenue, and the other in the main entrance.

The annual magazine campaign was also a project of the Council. The students of the school secured subscriptions from the people of the city, and Council got a certain percentage of the sales. This year, the profits from this magazine sale were turned over to the Yearbook Fund.

A March of Dimes dance was held in February, sponsored by the Student Councils of the four local high schools. It was a very successful dance, with the profits going to the March of Dimes Fund.

Several special assemblies were presented by the Council group during the year. Members assisted in selling refreshments at basketball games and wrestling matches. Dances, sponsored by the Council, were held after all home basketball games.

A Board of Control was appointed from the group to decide upon the budgets of the various clubs and organizations of the school.

THIS YEAR, AS ALWAYS, CLUBS AND ORGANIZATIONS PROMOTED EXTRA-CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES, HELPED THE STUDENT MAKE NEW FRIENDS, AND STIMULATED COOPERATION.

SORORES CLUB

Foremost among service clubs at Wash High is the Sorores Club, organized in 1932. Composed of girls from the 11th and 12th grades, this group has followed the traditions of earlier groups, of sending Christmas gifts to the Children's Home. At the end of the year, a banquet was held in honor of the seniors, at which time each senior received a club pin. Serving as the Club's officers are: Margery Burig, president; Ferne Haughton, vice president; Alice Spriggs, secretary; and June Jordan, treasurer. Miss Lena Lively is the club sponsor.

USHER CLUB

The Ushers consist of students from the 10th through the 12th grades, whose responsibility is to be ready to serve at any program of the school and to see that every person attending the program is shown to his seat in a quiet friendly manner. During the 1949-50 term, they served at all sports events, the Senior Class Play, Spring Play, Baccalaureate and Commencement services, as well as ushering at County Teachers' Institute, the Kiwanis Minstrel, Professional Wrestling Matches, and grade school basketball games.

LIBRARY CLUB

In today's world, the library is referred to as a type of laboratory where there is an informal atmosphere, and the attendance, to a large extent, is voluntary. Very often, the library is a busy spot, where over 100 pupils can be seated, and over 4200 volumes, ranging from biographies to zoology books, are available.

In order that the greatest assistance can be given, the Library Club of 50 members was organized. This group is composed of pupils from the 9th through the 12th grades, selected by the club to act as aides to students seeking information. The club meets every first and third Thursday of each month for programs dealing with library techniques.

GO-TO-COLLEGE CLUB

Composed principally of college preparatory students, these girls study, in their meetings, the values of college educations versus high school preparation. Guest speakers, obtained for each meeting, talk to the club about college entrance requirements, courses, college life, and possibilities for positions in various vocations. Catalogues from all colleges are available for discussion, and Miss Sarah McEnrue, adviser, is prepared to help the student select the college best suited to train her in the field of her choice. Meetings are held during the noon hour in 413, and are in charge of Eileen Noble. Theola Miller serves as vice president, with Donna Ferrell, as secretary, and Marilyn Carroll, treasurer.

SENIOR Y-TEENS

The Senior Y-Teens, under the leadership of Miss Dorothy Bryson, have a membership of 76 girls. This year, they served as Big Sisters to the 8th Grade Y-Teens. As a group, they have enjoyed many activities, including covered dish dinners, the Sweetheart Dance, Snowball Dance, and ruff-it parties. With the other Y organizations, they have participated in World Fellowship Week and the Candlelight Service. Meetings are held the second Wednesday of each month.

8TH GRADE Y-TEENS

The 8th Grade Y-Teens, also advised by Miss Dorothy Bryson, are known as the Little Sisters of the Senior club. Some of the activities the girls took part in were making pot holders which were judged by the Senior officers, and teaching each other different kinds of dance steps. This year they elected as their leaders: Maureen Paustenbach, president; Nancy Sharp, vice president; Jo Anne Wright, secretary; Kay Aber, treasurer; and Arnene Quillen, program chairman.

11TH GRADE Y-TEENS

The 1949-50 season of 11th Grade Y-Teens has been marked by important expansion in membership and program. The objects of the organization have been to train the sixty-two young women to be active and efficient Christians in the home, school, and community; to furnish an opportunity for social life; and to serve as a connecting link between the school and the YWCA.

10TH GRADE Y-TEENS

With new members being initiated into the organization at a big Initiation Party, the 10th Grade Y-Teens opened another year of activity. They elected as their Sweetheart, Mary Ann Quay. Another of their activities was a covered dish supper, which was held in the Terrace Room of the Y.W.

9TH GRADE Y-TEENS

The Y-Teens of the 9th Grade this year have been an orphan club, functioning without an adviser. Officers include Gayle Gibson, president; Gladys Ritchie, vice president; Jean Arena, secretary; June Koontz, treasurer; and Barbara Bryson, program chairman.

LINCOLN Y-TEENS

The officers of the Lincoln Street branch of the Y-Teens for 1949-50 are: President, Alberta Vincent; vice president, Jean Blake; secretary, Betty Winters; and treasurer, Marie Booker. Miss Ethel Crockett serves as adviser for the club which meets each Monday. Weekly dances are held at the Y each Friday night. During January a Hard Times Social was held at the Y.

CAMERA CLUBS

While the boys and girls of Wash High each have their own Camera Club—the purpose is the same—to instruct students how to take pictures and how to develop them. The dark room in G_2 is available for both groups. Mrs. Karl Gamble advises the girls, while Mr. Curtis Kerns sponsors the boys' group. "Around Wash High"—the boys' display in the first floor display case, shows students, unaware that they were camera subjects, hurrying to and from classes. As a cooperative project, the boys assist the girls in arranging correct lighting for indoor shots, in developing negatives, and other phases along the photographic line.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Girls' Athletic Association is an organization for girls from 9th through the 12th grade. Its purpose is to foster interest and participation in girls' sports. Basketball, volley ball and badminton were outstanding sports, along with other varieties of games. As an acknowledgment of active participation in the athletics of the organization, awards are presented each year on the basis of a point system. The G.A.A. is under the direction of Miss Beatrice Woodward, girls' physical education instructor. Officers include: president, Clara DiVincenzo; secretary - treasurer, Mary Moore.

JOURNALISM

Students of the journalism class show us the full meaning of the word "cooperation." By working with each other, these people perform their daily tasks with smooth precision. They are responsible for the successful publishing and distributing of our school paper.

Mr. Gaylord Hartman is adviser to the members of the staff. Under his direction, the news and feature articles are written, edited, and the dummy sheets are made up. After this work is completed, the paper form is turned over to the printer, proofs are read, and the completed copy reaches the hands of the students. Every time the paper is received, sighs of relief and satisfaction can be heard from Room 311 as the staff delivers the finished product. Now they can start work on another issue. Journalism is a continual merry-go-round!

HI-Y

The Hi-Y Club started off on the right track by winning the trophy at the Hi-Y Athletic Carnival last spring. Its members are active in the athletic program at the YMCA and also in the state Hi-Y program. A member, Douglas Shultz, represented the club in Harrisburg, March 16 and 17, at the Model Youth Legislature. Being advised again this year by Mr. Reed Dunn, the club has as its officers: President, John Demas; vice president, Dick Wilson; secretary, Bud Patterson; and treasurer, Carl Konvolinka.

STUDENT OPERATORS STAFF

Visual education is rapidly becoming the predominate supplemental teaching aid and is made available to all interested teachers through Mr. Paul Kratt, the visual education director. Projectionist work is handled by a group of 21 boys, headed by Bill Davis. These boys are licensed projectionists, receiving licenses in keeping with the provisions set up by Harrisburg. The S.O.S. Club or Student Operators Staff this year is composed of boys from all grades. It is their work to serve as operators for any movies to be shown. New equipment this year consisted of several screens, two sound projectors, and a record player.

MODERN FOREIGN LANGUAGE CLUB

Advised by Miss Teresina Marino, the Modern Foreign Language Club is composed of both French and Spanish students. The club has for its plan this year, set up separate conversational groups, and the students have learned more of these languages because of the informal use in conversation. They also have learned new knowledge of the customs of the countries whose languages they are studying, and have put this knowledge to use in their meetings.

SKETCH AND CRAFT CLUB

To further an interest in art, the Sketch and Craft Club was organized by Miss Florence Van Nostrand, art instructor. The aim is to find some form of art in which the students are most interested, and to suggest hobbies for leisure time. The club meets weekly to work on their different projects. Waste paper baskets and puppets have occupied their meeting time, and the latter have been presented before small student groups.

W CLUB

Athletes who have received their athletic letter award are eligible to belong to this organization. Each year a different coach assumes the sponsorship of the club, and the adviser for this year is Dr. William A. Harris, Jr. The W Club has certain objectives to attain. Among these are to promote the highest possible athletic standards, to stimulate a true and proper spirit, to develop complete and wholehearted cooperation in all activities, to insure true sportsmanship in all endeavors, and to promote friendship among the wearers of any varsity letter award.

KEY CLUB

"We Build." That's the motto of the Key Club, another of Wash High's service clubs. This group consists of boys, chosen by the teachers, who rank in the upper one-third, scholastically, of their respective classes, and who exemplify leadership and character.

The officers of the group are: President, Don Peters; vice president, Gordon French; secretary, George Eustis; treasurer, Burton Romanoff; adviser, Dr. William A. Harris, Jr.

Glee Club

Mixed Chorus

VOCAL MUSIC–CHEERLEADERS

Vocal Music organizations began to sound their do-re-mi's early in September at Washington High School. Four choral groups, as well as five smaller organizations, made their appearance, and have added to the musical pleasure of assemblies this year.

SENIOR TRIO

This group of girls, selected from the Mixed Choral group, has followed traditionally in the steps of former trios. Much in demand for club and church programs, they also find time to add variety to assembly programs. Alice Spriggs, soprano; Rose Marie Folio, 2nd soprano, and Isabelle Parker, alto, comprise the trio. Lee Richmond serves as accompanist.

JUNIOR TRIO

All 10th graders, this Junior Trio is newly organized this year from the Senior Girls' Chorus. Accompanied by Marjorie Harbaugh, they have participated in various assembly programs, particularly at Thanksgiving. The personnel includes Patricia Dunne, soprano; Marjorie Rankin, 2nd soprano; and Nancy Brownlee, alto.

GLEE CLUB TRIO

The Glee Club Trio, organized from the Girls' Glee Club, is made up of Diane Decker, soprano; Carol Sue Church, 2nd soprano; and Connie Cimino, alto. Formed for the first time this year, this group is making fine progress, and promises to be one of the outstanding musical organizations of the school.

THE FOUR TONES

The Four Tones, one of the two male quartets organized from the Mixed Chorus, is composed of Hurley Perry, 1st tenor; Lloyd Brown, 2nd tenor; George Asbury, baritone; and Vernon Bradley, bass. Clyde Richard Perry accompanies this quartet, which shows promise of becoming an outstanding group.

MALE QUARTET

The second Male Quartet is made up of Frederick Preston, 1st tenor; Harry Sutherland, 2nd tenor; Harry Brice, baritone; and Robert Nyswaner, bass. Clyde Richard Perry is the accompanist for the quartet, also.

SENIOR GIRLS' CHORUS

Foremost among the choral groups is the Senior Girls' Chorus of 40 voices. Programs were presented for Thanksgiving and Christmas. From this group comes a girls' trio, known as the Junior Trio. Marjorie Harbaugh plays the accompaniments for this chorus.

JUNIOR HIGH CHORUS

Directed by Miss Doris McNary, the Junior High Music Supervisor, this mixed group of 95 boys and girls from the 8th and 9th grades, has proved itself an outstanding musical organization. In demand, both for school and outside affairs, they have presented programs before student assemblies—Armistice Day and Christmas—have conducted devotions over the Public Address system, and have appeared before church groups and other organizations of the community. As a high light of the year, they presented—in what will probably be an annual event—a Junior High operetta "Saucy Hollandaise" on May 10. Character leads were taken by Carol Edgar, as the Princess; David Williams, as the Prince; Joseph Ruffalo, as Hans; Gayle Gibson, as Meena; Charles Dillie, as the King; Nancy Young, as his wife, the Queen; Robert Anthony, as Joe, the Sailor; and Melvin Gray, as Dr. Quick. Serving as accompanists for the chorus and the operetta were Joanne Wright and Carol Faust.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

The Girls' Glee Club, a comparatively new vocal group, was formed in September of 1948. Many talented girls, who were interested in music, took advantage of the opportunity made available to them and qualified through tests and musicianship for membership in the Glee Club. This chorus, limited to 30 voices, has 22 members this year. Attractive blue robes add to their appearance as they sing for assemblies and concerts. Martha Clark serves as accompanist.

MIXED CHORUS

The Mixed Chorus, also under the direction of Mrs. Etha McC. Richardson, has 40 members, 20 of which are Seniors. It is from this group, that leads in the Spring Play are usually selected. Several smaller choral groups—the Senior Trio, The Four Tones, and a male quartet are chosen from the Mixed choral group. There are three accompanists—Patricia Dillard, Lee Richmond, and Clyde Perry.

CHEERLEADERS

Behind the scene of everyone of our pep assemblies lies the hard work of the cheerleaders, for it is they who not only plan the program, but lead the cheers. The cheerleaders consist of three squads —the Junior High group of five, selected by a faculty committee from the 8th and 9th grades; the Reserve team of seven 10th graders, also selected by a faculty committee and composed of those advancing from the Junior High team plus others to make the total seven; and the Varsity squad, also seven in number, chosen by the student body from the Reserve squad. This last group is made up of 11th and 12th graders.

These girls are morale builders, for they try to stimulate school spirit with posters, announcments over the Public Address system, and most of all, with cheers at football games, basketball games, and wrestling matches. Miss Doris McNary is in charge of all the cheerleaders.

"A blare of bugles
A ruffle of drums."

Two shrill blasts of the whistle! And here come the majorettes, batons waving, forming glistening patterns under the lights of the stadium, their feet answering to the rhythmic beat of the music, as they lead the line of march for the Washington High School Band.

The regular corps of majorettes is composed of twelve girls. During football season you can find these girls practicing their twirling and marching routines to the tunes of the band. Perfection is required when they join the band, and practice keeps them always on the alert for performances at concerts, parades, and, of course, at all the football games.

THE BAND

Through the 23 years since its organization in 1927, the Wash High Band has proved itself one of the outstanding musical organizations of the district. As traveling ambassadors of the school, the blue and white uniformed band has played its part in providing good entertainment and good will. At home they are builders of morale and school spirit.

Training requires long painstaking hours of drill and practice on a twelve-month schedule. Only when they have mastered music and marching can mere horn tooters become master band members.

During the hectic months of the football season this group of 100 musicians does amazing things. A solid block of blue and white dissolves into a complex formation—a banjo advertising a minstrel show, a mock wedding, a flag, a floating "W" as they leave the field at half time. With stadium lights dimmed, and shoe and cap lights swaying to the strains of a popular song, they provide a program excelled by few university bands. These lights were added to the band equipment this year.

In addition to performing at the local stadium, the band answered numerous requests to participate in district parades and followed the football team to all away games.

Edson Miller were chosen to represent Wash High at the District Band held at West View High School. On February 18, Edson Miller left for Hazelton and the All-State Band.

Changing from a loud bombastic style to serious mood interpretation for the annual concert was rather difficult, but the group soon changed tempo, and settled down to hard work. The night of April 20 brought the Melody Ball—a program of popular, classical and semi-classical numbers. And every member of the band, whether first chair, or clear at the end of the section, knew that he had a position to fill and a part to play, and that without him, the band would not be complete.

This year a band court was organized to supplement the work of the band council. The court has been helpful in assisting with disciplinary problems, and has also formulated a constructive general policy for the band.

Everyone knows and appreciates the untiring effort Mr. Harding puts forth to produce a band of top calibre. Under his leadership, each member has acquired a better sense of cooperation, school spirit, and leadership.

From the first football game of the year to Senior graduation, the band has played an important and vital role in the life of Wash High. As the old members graduate, there will be new ones coming up from the Junior Band to keep the band of WHS marching on.

The Senior Class Presents "The Baby Sitter"

Cast—First Row: Lester Peel, Sara Burns, Alice Spriggs, Robert Barr, Theola Miller, Jessie Wood, Joseph Rotunda, Shirley Hartman, Evan Davis.

Second Row: Jane Dever, Carmen Maccheroli, Robert Culley, Mr. Hartman (director), Elizabeth Knestrick, Patsy Karpa.

Comedy took over as the Senior Class presented its annual play "The Baby Sitter" on November 22. This riotous three-act comedy was under the direction of Gaylord Hartman.

Action centered around Carrie, who was supposed to have a date with Bob, but found out that he had another date. So Carrie decided to baby sit with Gordon, Jr. Throughout the play, Junior does everything possible to get rid of Carrie, as he hates baby sitters. And everything that ever happened to a baby sitter happened to Carrie. A typical teen-age group—boy friends—telephone calls—date problems—all are in evidence as the play moves from one laugh to another. The climax came with Carrie as the heroine saving Junior's life.

The cast included:

Bob ..... Lester Peel
Mother ..... Alice Spriggs
Father ..... Robert Barr
Junior ..... Joseph Rotunda
Jane ..... Jessie Wood
Helen ..... Sara Burns
Carrie ..... Theola Miller
Eunice ..... Jane Dever
Carl ..... Carmen Maccheroli
Lefty ..... Robert Culley
Midge ..... Elizabeth Knestrick
Dot ..... Patsy Karpa
Mr. Gordon ..... Evan Davis
Mrs. Gordon ..... Shirley Hartman

Washington High School Presents "Dancing Shoes"

In the kingdom of Iteria there lived a king named Thalo (Robert Fetherlin), who had twelve daughters, the youngest of which was Laura (Romaine McDonald, Martha McCann). The king was trying to find out why his daughters' dancing shoes were worn out each night. The king offered one of his daughter's hands in marriage and half a kingdom to anyone who could solve the mystery. Failure to find the secret meant either marrying Iteria's ugliest woman (Theola Miller) or banishment from the country.

Many of the strongest men of Iteria failed, but Rafe (Dave Polan), a young gypsy lad, decided to find out the secret. He went to a fortune teller (Jane Dever) who warned him not to drink the wine the princesses would try to give him because it was drugged. He took the wine, pretended to drink it, then feigned sleep. He followed the girls to the land of dream and enchantment and there he fell in love with Laura.

The next day, Rafe explains to the King how the Princesses went to the enchanted castle, where a ball was held each evening until dawn. The mystery solved—the King keeps his promise, giving Rafe half a kingdom and a princess. He selects Laura and at that moment his rags fall off and he is dressed in satins—a true prince. Celebrations take place all over Iteria and the Prince and Princess live happily ever after.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

There is no way possible to determine the number of Little Prexie jobs, large and small, that have been skillfully performed by various people in the school, but the staff wishes to express its thanks to one and all who helped make this book possible. Our special thanks to Student Council, whose homeroom representatives were responsible for collecting our subscription money, and who worked to make our campaign go "over the top."

All pictures, except under-class individuals, are the work of the Strem Studio. Frank Carter and Freddie Eckert were the Strem photographers who saw that our every request for a picture was filled. Shiflet Brothers furnished the lower class pictures.

We could always count on new ideas for difficult pages from Mr. James R. McWilliams of Jahn and Ollier, who did our engraving work. Mr. Ralph Benz of the S. K. Smith Company cooperated in planning our cover design. Mr. Arthur Ward and the Staff of the Ward Printing Company were responsible for the printing and binding of our book in its green and gold cover. Robert Culley, student artist, formulated the idea for the senior divider page, and drew the design for the contents page.

We are proud of the 1950 Little Prexie, not only because it represents our senior year, but also because here is the material result of cooperation on the part of nearly every student and faculty member.
